الحل والشرح

1 C) livid Livid means extremely angry, which fits a mother who learns her daughter cheated again. Capable, cuddly and inspirational do not fit her reaction.

2 A) force The driving force behind something is the main cause or motivator. Suha's commitment made the project succeed, so she was the force.

3 D) mustn't The book uses mustn't for prohibition and negative obligation, which fits 'You mustn't forget' (it is a strong warning). 'Could' and 'had to' do not give this meaning.

4 D) the fact 'Something' is a reference device pointing back to the whole idea 'The fact that there wasn't a better system', so it refers to 'the fact'. The system and the people are only parts of the sentence, not what surprised Malek.

5 D) My British friend is used to driving cars in Jordan now. 'Be used to' is followed by -ing: is used to driving. 'Used to drive' is for past habits.

6 D) public transport Taking public transport means fewer cars on the roads, so 'public transport' fits. The other phrases do not fit 'take'.

7 B) Not only did I feel relaxed, but also happy and safe. Inversion reverses the word order after certain words or expressions such as 'Not only': the auxiliary comes before the subject. With simple tenses the book adds the auxiliary do, so the correct form is 'Not only did I feel relaxed'.

8 B) The event that took place in Madrid in 2019 CE was the International Tourism Conference. The underlined part is a thing (the conference), so the cleft sentence starts with a "The ... that" phrase and ends with it: "The event that took place in Madrid in 2019 CE was the International Tourism Conference". The others emphasise the place or the year.

9 A) Scarcely had the tickets gone on sale when they were sold out. After certain words the subject and verb swap, as in the book's "No sooner had I written the essay than ...". So "Scarcely had the tickets gone on sale when ..." puts had before the subject.

10 C) The place where Rashed hid the iPad was under the mattress. The underlined words name a place (under the mattress), so the cleft starts with the book's "The place where": "The place where Rashed hid the iPad was under the mattress".

11 D) It was the party that Yousef invited Amjad to last week. The book makes cleft sentences with it + be. Underlining "to the party" means that phrase follows "It was": "It was the party that Yousef invited Amjad to last week". The others stress who or when.

12 A) The person who contributed The book's cleft pattern for a person is "The person who ...", so "The person who contributed to the invention of the oud was Al-Kindi" is correct. "The thing which" does not fit a person.

13 B) It was last week when Rami bought a new laptop from Amjad. The book makes cleft sentences with it + be, so the underlined "last week" follows "It was": "It was last week when Rami bought a new laptop from Amjad". The others stress Rami, the laptop or Amjad.

14 D) which This is a cleft sentence with 'It is ... which', emphasising a thing, as in the book's 'It was the flowing golden dunes which really impressed me'. Things take 'which', not 'who', 'when' or 'where'.

15 A) It was Hanan who bought a movie from the store last month The cleft sentence 'It + be + word + who/that ...' puts the emphasised word right after 'It was'. To emphasise Hanan, a person, we say 'It was Hanan who bought ...', like the book's 'It was Dad who said ...'. The others emphasise last month, a movie or the store.

16 B) It was yesterday that Rashed invited Dana to the party A cleft sentence puts the information to emphasise right after 'It was'. The underlined word is 'yesterday', so the sentence is 'It was yesterday that Rashed invited Dana ...'. The other options emphasise Rashed, the party or Dana.

17 B) artificially We need an adverb to describe 'produced': 'artificially produced chemicals'. The other options are nouns.

18 C) which The clause defines a thing (the museum) and its object: "I'd never been to" already has its preposition. The book uses which/that for things, so which fits, not where.

19 D) floppy disk A floppy disk is a thing that was invented and used to move information between computers. Privacy settings and identity fraud are not inventions of 1971.

20 D) obvious 'Blindingly obvious' is a fixed phrase meaning extremely clear. It fits 'I think it is ... that there is a serious issue'.
