الحل والشرح

1 D) to The phrase is 'apply yourself to something', meaning to work hard at it. So 'to your work' is correct.

2 D) make a mistake When you do something wrong that hurts someone, you make a mistake, and then you should apologise. The other phrases do not fit.

3 C) hadn't forgotten He forgot, and now he regrets it: 'if only' + past perfect negative, 'hadn't forgotten'. 'Had forgotten' would say the opposite of the wish.

4 D) mustn't The book uses mustn't for prohibition and negative obligation, which fits 'You mustn't forget' (it is a strong warning). 'Could' and 'had to' do not give this meaning.

5 D) must The book uses must for logical deduction, and can't for the opposite. Seeing her umbrella on the table, we are sure Rana was here, so 'must have been'.

6 C) You weren't supposed to tell him the bad news. 'Be supposed to' talks about what should or shouldn't happen according to what is expected. 'You shouldn't have told him' therefore matches 'You weren't supposed to tell him'.

7 C) You don't have to press the button of the elevator more than once. "It is not necessary" means lack of necessity, which the book expresses with don't have to. Mustn't means prohibition and shouldn't means advice, so they change the meaning.

8 B) Fadi didn't get a lift into town from Ali. The book says could + have + past participle shows an action that was possible but not done: "You might/could have told me. (but you didn't)". So Ali could have given a lift but Fadi didn't get one.

9 A) attribute An attribute is a quality or feature of a person, like staying calm under pressure. Effect and export are not qualities, and a polymath is a person.

10 B) off the record Off the record means said privately, not to be published. It fits 'made it clear that his comments were strictly...'.

11 B) To help them deal with anxiety and career stress. The text says the psychologists teach coping skills for dealing with anxiety and intense career stress, for example muscle relaxation and breathing. So the purpose is to help players deal with anxiety and career stress.

12 D) Monitoring what is happening Monitoring means knowing what is happening and following the developments, which matches the definition.

13 D) will you After an imperative (a command), the question tag is 'will you?'. 'Don't be late, will you?'

14 D) explaining / how 'Do you mind' is followed by an -ing form: explaining. 'How' then introduces the way learning a language improves skills; 'who' or 'where' would not make sense.

15 C) Having memorised Participle clauses give a reason, so 'Due to the fact that I memorised' becomes 'Having memorised', where the perfect form shows memorising came first. 'Having recited' changes the meaning.

16 B) innovative Ground-breaking means new and original, so 'innovative' is the closest. Conventional is the opposite: it means traditional.

17 A) reputation The sentence says the colt's father 'has a great name in these parts', meaning he is well known and respected, so it shows his reputation.
